

prevent polluted stormwater runoff www.westchestergov.com/waterquality

Impervious surfaces like sidewalks, driveways and streets carry stormwater runoff directly to nearby streams, rivers or ponds with very little chance for treatment. When you do something on these surfaces or nearby lawn areas, think of it as if you're standing right in that local stream, river or pond and the larger waterbodies downstream.

when you wash your car in the driveway you're not just washing it in the driveway when your pets go on the ground they're not just going on the ground when you fertilize your lawn you're not just fertilizing your lawn when your car is leaking oil it isn't just leaking on the street
